It might be due to the fact that the USA has a bigger population.

That's partly true. As you mentioned a while ago, the USA is a big country, likewise Canada. In terms of landmass, Canada covers a larger area than the United States.

That's an interesting geographical fact.

Resignation – Aya Adams

Dear Mr. Robert:

I would like to inform you that I am resigning from my position, effective October 31, 2021.

I appreciate the opportunities for professional development that you have provided me over the past four years. Contributing to the graphic design department has been an immensely rewarding experience for me, and I feel grateful to have started my career alongside such a dedicated team.

I have accepted a position in graphic design in Canada. While my experience at EduGraph Studio was gratifying and fulfilling, I am excited to pursue graphic design overseas.

If I can be of any help during this transition, please let me know. I am willing to help out with freelance work until you find a replacement.

Thank you again for the opportunity to work with you. I wish you all the best and look forward to staying in touch. You can email me at ayadams000@gmail.com.

Sincerely,
Aya Adams
