Lesson 45

Expressing Opinions

LEARNING GOALS

- ◆ Asking for and Giving Opinions
- ◆ Showing Disagreement

What would you say?

Scenario: You are presiding over a meeting and would like to ask everyone's opinion about something.

How do I ask my colleagues to give their opinions?

Situational Dialogue

► Ms. Chen presides over the meeting.

Jia Chen

Selena Leroy

Jordan Brett

Kenzo Hara

Good afternoon, everyone!
As mentioned in the agenda, today we are going to talk about replacing our CRM system. What are your thoughts on selecting the optimal CRM system?

In my opinion, we can refer to the users' comments on the Internet.

I understand your perspective, but I'm afraid not all the comments are reliable. I figure it would be better to visit the official website for more trustworthy information.

I have the same feeling.
As far as I'm concerned, the best way is to consult the service providers directly so that they can determine our needs better.

Key Vocabulary

Learn the new words and answer the questions.

trustworthy

(adj.) able to be relied on as honest or truthful

e.g. We only do business with trustworthy partners.

official website

(n.) a company's site that is used to represent them online

e.g. All their products and services can be found on the official website.

service provider

(n.) a company that provides Internet-related services

e.g. Make sure to choose a service provider that values security.
