Narrative Writing

LESSON 19

Narrative Start-Up

2

Today we'll learn ...

1

what a personal narrative is.

2

how to start a personal narrative.

Lead-in

What did you do last Sunday?

I ... in the morning.

I ... in the afternoon.

I ... in the evening.

Lead-in

What did Allen do Last Sunday?

I watched TV in the morning.

I played football in the afternoon.

I had pizza in the evening.

Let's Learn

This is a personal narrative!

My Sunday

Last Sunday,

I watched TV in the morning.

I played football in the afternoon.

I had pizza in the evening.

A personal narrative is a story about something you did.

Let's Do

Look and choose.

Which is a personal narrative?

A. My Pet

I have a pet.

He is a naughty dog.

His name is William.

He is black with white spots on his back.

B. A Busy Morning

I got up at 7:30 yesterday.

I put on my clothes, but I couldn't find one of my socks. I had to change another pair. I brushed my teeth, but I didn't have time to comb my hair.

Let's Learn

How do we start a personal narrative?

Lily starts like this!

One day, I

had lunch

with Grandma.

Let's Learn

Check the key elements!

when

who

What happened

One day, I

had lunch

with Grandma.

Let's Do

Write about one special time you remember.

1. when

2. who

3. what happened

A large, blank, white rectangular area with a wavy, scalloped border, intended for writing. It is decorated with brown spiral binding on the left side and a purple marker on the right side.

Lily writes more sentences to form a paragraph.

Noodles

One day, I had lunch with Grandma. We made noodles.

I put some noodles in the soup.

Then I ate them. I like cooking with Grandma.

What is the title?

When? Who?
What happened?

How did they make noodles?

- A personal narrative is a story about something you did.

- Make sure it has clearly expressed:

1. when

2. who

3. what happened

example
